CHARTER

SW100
Starfall

Starfall, an iconic SW100 DS, has built a strong reputation in the charter industry, being well-renowned in the market under her previous name, Farewell. With a deck saloon configuration, she combines style and performance with reliability and safety when sailing.

The deck has been designed for easy sailing and comfort both for guests and crew.

The separate aft crew cockpit is an ideal maneuvering space with independent and direct access to the aft crew quarters without passing through the guest area. The aft swimming platform gives easy access to the water and features a shower and handy storage for snorkeling gear.

The central guest cockpit is protected by the coachroof. A large sunbathing area adjacent has plenty of room for socializing and relaxing on deck in privacy and safety. A dodger, bimini with removable side panels and a boom-extended awning mean maximum flexibility for shading the guest cockpit and the sun bathing area and protecting guests from bad weather.

The full interior renovation introduced new soft furnishings and carpeting, creating a stylish and minimal light interior giving the yacht a sophisticated and contemporary ambiance, enhancing the overall onboard experience.

The coachroof windows allow light and views into the saloon which features a U shaped couch and a dining area for eight to ten people to port. The adjacent owner's study can be used as an entryway to the owner's cabin or as an extension of the saloon.

MASTER CABIN

The accommodation features the owner's cabin fore layout for quiet, privacy and comfort. The central king sized bed does not dominate a space that also features a corner vanity desk and a couch for two.

TWIN GUEST CABIN

TWIN GUEST CABIN

A VIP cabin, featuring an additional bunk bed, is situated forward of the saloon and two en suite twin cabins are located aft of it.

The crew area aft includes two cabins and a spacious galley; it is served by a dedicated companionway to ensure the privacy of owners and guests.
